THE ASSIZES.

The following is the Judge's address to the Grand Jury on Tuesday morning in reference to the charge of murder against Webster: "In the other indictment that will be laid before you, the accused will be charged with the crime of murder, the most serious of all crimes. What appears from the depositions to be the undisputed facts connected with this case are, briefly, that on the morning of the 7th of Nov. last, between midnight and 1 o'clock, when a man named Bole, who apparently was drunk at the time, was lying on his back on the ground, the accused was seen to kick him once or twice about the head and face. The bystanders then pulled out a bottle and Bole was carried to an outbuilding and was laid on a robe or quilt, and a bag of bran placed under his head for a pillow, and he was covered up with quilts or horseblankets, or something of the sort, and was then left, as some of the witnesses say, to sleep off his drink. He was seen again between 3 and 4 and seemed to be sleeping, but at 7 in the morning he was found to be dead; and it is charged that it was the injuries inflicted on him by the accused that caused his death. Homicide is defined by the criminal code to be the killing of a human being by another, directly or indirectly, by any means whatsoever. Homicide is declared to be culpable, that is, to be a crime, when it consists in the killing of any person by an unlawful act without lawful excuse. If, then, it can be shown in the present case, that the accused unlawfully and without lawful excuse, killed or used other violence to the deceased, and that the death was the result, either direct or indirect, of the violence, the case will come within the definition of culpable homicide. Any difficulty that you may have in dealing with the case will arise probably in considering whether the death of the deceased was the direct or indirect result of the violence inflicted on him by the accused; and in so considering this you will have to be guided by the evidence that will be laid before you, and especially by the evidence of the medical men who saw and examined the body after death. There is one point to which I want to draw your attention, and that is, if there is evidence from which it is reasonable to presume that the death of the deceased, directly or indirectly, resulted from the violence of the accused, that violence will be culpable homicide, and the state in which the deceased was at the time made him more susceptible to injury, and that the same injuries, had he been sober, might not, or would not, have resulted fatally. Culpable homicide is, of course, according to the circumstances, either murder or manslaughter; but in the absence of evidence to the contrary, every case of culpable homicide is presumed to be murder. If, therefore, you shall find from the evidence that there is any reasonable presumption that the death of the deceased was directly or indirectly caused by the accused, you will be justified in finding a true bill, so that the question of the guilt or innocence of the accused may be tried and decided before a common jury."

There are only four cases on the docket, the criminal and two civil, Queen vs. Webster, murder; Queen vs. Ross, false pretence; Edmunds vs. O'Brien, contract; Edington vs. Melville, contract.

Presentation to Father Bourdeau.

On Friday night last the friends of the Rev. Father Bourdeau gathered in St. Augustine's church and presented him with a purse containing $110 and the following address which was beautifully illuminated and engrossed by the sisters of the convent:

REV. AND DEAR FATHER.—A double duty assembly as here this evening, to thank you for your devotedness toward us in the past, and to wish you success in your new field of labor.

Four years have scarcely elapsed since you took charge of St. Augustine's church, and during that time you have not only ministered to our spiritual wants with untiring zeal and complete self-sacrifice, but you have endeavored yourself to your parishioners by the affectionate and sympathetic interest which you have ever evinced towards each one of us, whose trials, great and small, found a ready echo in your kindly heart. Faithful followers of Him who said, "I am the Good Shepherd," you have sacrificed yourself for the flock committed to your care, teaching them, both by word and example, the beauties—ever ancient, ever new—of that church to which they are proud and happy to belong.

There are members here present this evening, your good and dear friends, who, though not members of our congregation, wish to unite their regrets and earnest good wishes with those of your flock, to assure you of their deep appreciation of your noble Christian qualities, and to beg that their names may be remembered among those whom you have to recall as your sincere friends in Brandon.

Accept as a slight token of our respectful affection this modest offering, which we wish it were in our power to increase an hundredfold.

May God's choicest graces attend you wherever you go, reverend and dear father, may His blessings be multiplied on you and the work which you undertake for his greater glory. While laboring assiduously in your new mission do not forget your former parishioners who, bound to you by the strongest ties of gratitude and affection, will ever remember the devotedness which characterized a so brief period of your ministry in Brandon.

The address was read by Mr. Purcell and the presentation of the purse made by Miss Bertrand. Father Bourdeau was much touched by the evidence of good will, and heartily thanked his parishioners for the pleasant surprise.

Will Exhibit the Head.

St. Thomas, March 11.—The defence in the Henderhott trial scored a strong point this morning when Chief Justice Meredith excluded the evidence given by the two prisoners at the coroner's inquest. The crown was confident of securing the admission of these depositions and it was one of the strong links in the chain of evidence. The rule under which Justice Meredith barred out the evidence was that no prisoner can be criminated by evidence given by him at a previous proceeding, whether or not he gave it voluntarily. The question of admitting the inquest evidence, showing the motive for the crime will come up to-morrow. It is most important and as this is the first case of the kind, Justice Meredith's ruling will be a precedent. A gruesome exhibit is the severed head of young Henderhott, which will be brought into court, and the crown expects it to have an effect on the prisoners, who are already weakened.

W. J. Ostrander, the first witness this morning, said that the prisoner Henderhott was at his house on the night that the nephew was killed. The prisoner admitted that he was in the house on the young man's life and asked him to say nothing about it. The prisoner did not know which Wm. Henderhott, whether the brother or the nephew, had been killed. He mentioned three ways in which the nephew could be killed, one way was that he might have been struck by a falling tree, while running to get his clothes or his watch.

John Hetchabam, the older prisoner's brother-in-law, was called. He said that he read the telegram for the prisoner, because the latter could not read. Witness began to weep because she thought her brother had been killed and the prisoner told her not to worry because his nephew was a clumsy boy and it was probably he that was killed.

Hockey Match.

The biggest crowd that ever packed themselves into the Victoria rink gathered there on Friday night, last, to witness the game between the Brandon Seniors and a picked team from Winnipeg, including 3 or 4 members of the Senior Victor team. At precisely nine o'clock the Vics' left on to the ice, followed closely by our team, five minutes later and the game was on. No one entertained the slightest idea that our team would make a good showing against the supposed invincibles, but when half-time was called the game was 2 to 1 in favor of Brandon, hope obtained in the hearts of both our players and their friends. Our team played an excellent game and kept most of the play on their opponents' goal. But for an accident to Sylvester, we believe the victors would have returned home with less pomp than they brought with them, and McRae, the umpire, would have required even a more elastic conscience to uplift his hand at every shot on our goal simultaneous with the movement of the players' stick, however. "One caudet quos custodiat" (excuse quotation.)

The goals were made as follows:

TEAM.	MIN.	GOALS.
Winnipeg	15	1
Brandon	4	2
"	5	3
Winnipeg	10	4
"	4	5
"	5	7
Brandon	2	8
Winnipeg	6	9
Brandon	3	10
Winnipeg	4	11
"	2	12

The Winnipeg team thus won by two goals.

The Juveniles.

The Juvenile team of hockeyists returned home from their trip to Portage la Prairie and Winnipeg on Tuesday night. On Monday night they played at the Portage where they were beaten by a score of 8 to 3.

On Tuesday afternoon they met the Assiniboines in Winnipeg in the McIntyre rink, but luck was against them, and they were only managed to secure 2 out of 11 goals made during the game. Our team was composed as follows: F. Nickels, goal; L. Hann, point; J. Delaney, cover point; W. Botting, J. L'Esperance, S. Laughton and H. Fleming, forwards. Sandy Fleming accompanied them on their trip. The boys are chagrined over the result, but we think they did well as both the opposing teams were their superior in weight, having a much heavier team and properly belonging to the juniors.

Curling Bonspiel.

The curling bonspiel commenced here on Tuesday morning with an attendance of about 20 rinks. The skating rink has for a few days been transformed into a curling rink thus securing seven sheets of ice for the curlers.

The Grand Challenge competition is as follows:

Cass, Rapid City, 10 vs. Simpson, Brandon, 12.
Tamblin, Wawanesa, 9 vs. Torrance, Brandon, 17.

Rat Portage vs. Brandon.

The Rat Portage hockey team will feel dreadfully sick to think they could not "walk over" our senior team as easily as expected. Of course since a hybrid team from Winnipeg managed to beat them, it would be nonsense to question their ability to do the same. There was a strong feeling among the visitors that they started in for a rough game, but our boys quietly reserved their strength till the second half and evened up with them in the end, paying them back in their own coin. We shall have to ask our boys to relinquish a little of their individual playing and learn to pass the puck. The teams were composed as follows:

Rat Portage.	goal	Brandon.
Delmage	point	Muttter
Dowling	cover point	Merritt
D. Hardisty		Macdonald
F. Hardisty		Campbell
Macdonald	Forwards	Doran
Burrage		Fleming
R. Henson		Sylvester

The score stood 8 to 2 in favor of Brandon.

Gen. Booth Sanguine.

New York, March 11.—The Times' correspondent says Booth has returned filled with enthusiastic confidence in the future of the Salvation Army and its industrial projects in Canada. He seems to have more doubt about the States than about Canada, though he has no reservations. He believes he is going to astonish the globe by the magnitude of his achievements there, and apparently his plans are all cut and dried for beginning an exodus of immigrants from this side which will be one of the most remarkable of our time. He is very sanguine, too, about keeping these ten thousand colonists in Canada after he gets them there.

Wilde vs. Marquis of Queensberry

London, March 11.—The case of Oscar Wilde against the Marquis of Queensberry for publicly insulting the former was heard in court today. Wilde's solicitor produced a letter which Mr. Wilde said was handed him by Lord Alfred Douglas coming from Queensberry. The letter was not read but was alleged to contain other letters, as it mentions the names of several persons of exalted social standing. The solicitor for Queensberry said the defence sought to show that the marquis exercised a father's privilege in seeking to protect his son from Wilde's friendship. Queensberry said: "I wrote the said complained of with the intention of obliging my son to find as I was unable to see Wilde otherwise and to save my son from his influences. I labored by what I wrote." Queensberry was committed for trial.

The Campaign.

The fight in the Brandon constituency has fairly set in, and the certainty of three candidates in the field makes the matter more interesting. Mr. Postleth has gone over the field and is assured of a considerable support.

Mr. Speers will of course get a fair support from the Liberals, but his chances are not the most encouraging even to himself. The general impression is, of course, that Mr. Daly will be the Government candidate and the Government is still the popular party in the country.

A meeting of about sixty electors was held at Hartney Tuesday. Mr. Speers at first considered that his meeting was for organization only, and declined to allow opposition. To that line he was urged by his friends, but when he learned that opposition meetings would be called all along the line at the same places and hour as his, unless opposition was allowed, he yielded, taking the anomalous ground of letting a friend open instead of speaking first himself. This is certainly anything but reasonable or fair. Mr. Underhill opened with the usual stock arguments of his party, proving (1) his statements by clippings from the Winnipeg Tribune, to the great amusement of the audience, when Mr. Cliffe showed where the facts came from.

Mr. Cliffe followed, dealing effectively with the items that constituted the National debt, showing the inconsistency of the Grit party in striking heads at every turn, repudiating today the utterances of Blake, Charlton, Joly, Laurier and in fact the talent of their entire party by their present "Free Trade as in England." He showed the cheap money proximity of raw materials to one another, cheap labor, cheap export by water from the factories to the consumers, of England, made a condition of things there favorable to Free Trade, and rendered it, as Mr. Blake declared at Malvern, impossible in Canada. His statements were accepted by the audience and never even questioned by Mr. Speers himself. The latter gentleman confined his hour and a quarter's speech to his experience as a cattle buyer, the rich more richer and the poor more poorer, arguments of the Grit press, in right fourth of July oratory style. He accused the Government of paying for a Mass for the Soul of Sir John Thompson, but was compelled by Mr. Hartney to take it back, acknowledging that he had nothing but Grit newspapers authority for his charge, while he had the emphatic denial of it by the Premier. He was non-committal on the H. B. Railway, rather favored it, but with conditions that can certainly never be complied with. This was drawn from him by Mr. J. Young. There were about 60 electors present, 19 of whom remained with him for organization, 35 went to another room to organize for the Government, and a few went home.

Tennyson on Spring.

We have the word of Alfred Tennyson for it is that in the spring the young man's fancies lightly turn to thoughts of love. It is singular that the great laureate omitted to mention the fact that it is in the spring that a considerable portion of the human race turn to taking Hood's Sarsaparilla. Probably nothing but the difficulty of finding a good rhyme for that invaluable remedy deterred him. Certain it is that the old-time domestic remedies are generally discarded in favor of the standard blood purifier, Hood's Sarsaparilla, which has attained the greatest popularity all over the country as the favorite Spring Medicine. It purifies the blood and gives nerve, mental, bodily, and digestive strength.

A FALSE CHARGE.

Jury Ordered by a New York Judge to Give a Verdict for Life.

The case of Arthur J. F. Mulley for $50,000 against the State of New York was brought to trial in New York some days ago. On October 25, 1892, there appeared in the State of New York, an article headed "Half Baked, Half Blueballed." "The Mystery of Dark Blue," and other glaring headlines. It was a column in length and went on to state that Mulley in his control a beautiful German maiden, scarce 15 years old, had made a chapel of his store in Park, New York, where there was an altar and a Bible, at the side of which there was a sword. In this place he kept the girl locked up and for months she never saw the light of day. Out side the door of the chapel Mulley is said to have kept a bloodhound and a mastiff to guard the girl. One night, as the story goes, Annie, the girl, escaped, going to the house of her sister on Wooster street. Mulley found out where she was and again brought her under his influence, taking her back to the "den." Then Mulley is said to have looked the girl up again and her mother did not see her for a year and a day. It was also said that this was not the first girl that Mulley had so treated and that the neighbors knew of two other girls that had been kept in his "den." At the trial the plaintiff swore that he had been married to the girl Annie mentioned in the article for eight years and that they had children. As it was an incest he was not called upon to testify as to the libel further. Justice Jackson, in charging the jury said that the publication was a "false and malicious libel." The court instructed the jury as to compensating and exemplary damages, and not to be alarmed to give large damages if they thought the publication of the libel warranted it. A scaled verdict was ordered.

David Jones Was Able to Exist Without Sleep.

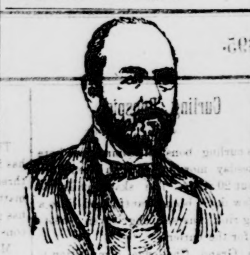

David Jones, a wealthy farmer, residing near Elwood, Ind., failed on the night of September 22nd last to sleep, and from that time on, night after night, could not get any sleep. He lost over 100 pounds of flesh, but was able to continue work. Noted medical men vainly tried to afford him relief. A few days ago he began to feel drowsy and that night slept half an hour. He has since been sleeping a little each night and it is now thought that he soon will be all right without sleep. Three years ago he went to the night. He had lost over 100 pounds during the long, sleepless period now apparently at an end.

NEW CHIEF JUSTICE.

For British Columbia Premier, David the Appointed.

Premier David, of British Columbia, has been appointed Chief Justice of the Province of British Columbia in place of the late Chief Justice Begbie.

THEODORE DAVID, Q. C.

Hon. Theodore David, Q. C., is the son of John Chapman David, formerly of Dorset, Eng., Surgeon and M. R. C. S. Eng., who went to British Columbia in 1862, and was at the time of his death, in 1863, a member of the Legislative Assembly. Theodore David was born March 22, 1852, at Bristol, Surrey, Eng. He was admitted to practice as an Attorney, April 18, 1873, and was called to the bar of British Columbia, April 16, 1877. He was appointed a Q. C. June 1, 1888. He was first returned to the Legislative Assembly at the general election of 1886, and succeeded his brother, the late Hon. Alex. E. B. David as Attorney-General in August, 1889, and was re-elected for Victoria on acceptance of office. He was elected for his present seat (Cowichan) at the last general election. He succeeded the late Hon. John Robson in the Premiership about a year ago.

The Butter Market.

The immediate cause of the deplorable state of the Canadian butter market is due to holding butter for a higher price instead of selling it while it is fresh at the market value. People at home and abroad are not now obliged to eat stale butter. In British markets fresh grass butter can be had all the year around, and it is not a matter for surprise that the people there have utterly rejected held Canadian butter. Even at home the taste has been educated for fresh butter. There is now enough winter-made butter to supply the market in Eastern Canada, and people will not accordingly use held stock. It is therefore evident from all sides that the days of holding butter in Canada is numbered. The present reason has brought a severe lesson, but it need not something of this kind to kill the foolish custom of holding butter instead of letting it go in consumption while it is fresh and sweet.

If Canada is to do an export butter trade, we should begin by promptly exporting summer-made butter while it is fresh, and selling it at once at current market values. In this way the home market would not become overloaded, and the winter-made butter, which is more suitable for home trade, would find a ready consumptive demand at home. To begin an export business with the poorer quality of butter made in the winter season, seems like beginning at the wrong time to try and work up an export trade.

In Manitoba, we need to take a lesson from the present situation in butter. Here, too, it is evident that holding butter must come to an end. A special effort is now being made to encourage the dairy interests, but there will be little use in spending provincial funds to encourage dairying, unless the factories are enabled to ship their butter while it is fresh. The present season has shown that the custom of holding ordinary dairy butter for winter sale, cannot longer be carried on. Dairy as well as creamery butter must be shipped promptly, and sold at the market value, even though prices may be low at the time. Holding butter has proved a failure, and must justify to prove a failure, and an injury to the dairy interests of the country.—The Commercial.

The Tuberculosis scare.

A writer in the American Agriculturist says: The tuberculosis had promises to rival the pleuro pneumonia raid of 1888 unless the press and cattle owners call a halt. Westchester was at that time subject to an oppressive summer, and overran with inspectors who knew nothing of the disease, but did know enough to put tags in the ears of thousands of cattle and draw their pay. Farmers were forbidden to drive their cattle along the big way, even from one part of the farm to another, but a few favored ones managed to increase their herds with old broken down cows and heifers, and the whole herd was condemned and appraised at a good round price, most of the beef going to New York for food. One farmer drove the inspectors from his premises by force of arms, was arrested, tried and acquitted, the learned judge saying that they were trespassers unless they could prove his cattle were diseased. After a long time the farmers held a meeting at Mr. Kisco. Prof. Law was present and spoke at length of the good work they were doing and the necessity for extreme measures and remarked, incidentally, that he stamped out pleuro pneumonia in Chicago in six months. A bright farmer asked him why it was necessary to continue the confinement in a rural county of years, but got no answer. Proper resolutions were passed by the meeting, the inspectors were discharged soon after and no cases of the disease have been known since.

Scientific Exposure.

The exposure at Moncton, by which a large American company is likely to escape improper risks to the extent of $50,000, and the whole insurance fraternity has been set upon their guard against an organized syndicate of swindlers, resulted from the careful investigation bestowed by the Great West Life Assurance Co. upon the business life comes before it. This thoroughness and carelessness succeeded in discovering the conspiracy under the surface of an apparently satisfactory proposal for insurance. It is interesting to note that the new business written by the Great West for the past year is nearly $5,000,000.

MANITOBA PARLIAMENT.

THIRD SESSION THE TWENTH MANITOBA LEGISLATURE.

The Business of the Legislature Progressed.

On Monday, March 6, 1893, the House advanced a Stage-A Bill Respecting Hereditary.

Wednesday, March 6, 1893.

After the reception of a number of petitions, the second reading of the resolutions reported from the committee of supply was proceeded with.

Mr. Evans suggested that the Virden poultry association be given a grant of $50.

Mr. O'Malley thought the provincial board of health should be worked more cheaply. Mr. Sifton showed the advantages that the province had obtained through having such a board.

Mr. O'Malley criticized the action of the government in closing the immigration office near the C. P. R. station, and suggested that it be opened with a labor bureau.

Hon. Mr. Watson said that a bridge was to be constructed four miles east of the narrows of Lake Manitoba.

The resolutions having been read, Mr. Martin congratulated the government on the resolutions having been passed without one vote of dissent. He characterized this as something unprecedented; but he entered his solemn protest against the inaction of the opposition in not putting themselves on record.

The house went into committee of ways and means, Mr. Morton in the chair, and passed a resolution that for the purpose indicated, the sum of $700,000 be taken from the consolidated revenue fund.

Hon. Mr. Cameron moved, seconded by Hon. Mr. Sifton: That the order of the house passed on the 20th day of February last, whereby it was ordered that a humble address be presented to His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor, praying that His Honor will cause to be laid before the house, copy of petition or petitions, and of all correspondence, if any, and the audit of the accounts of the municipality of St. Clemente in 1892, be rescinded.

Some discussion followed, Messrs. Cameron and Sifton supporting the resolution, while Messrs. Armstrong, O'Malley and Martin called for the information. Finally the motion was lost on the following division:

Ayes—Messrs. Jackson, Morton, Rathbarn, Doug. Forsyth, Lyons, Frazer, Watson and McMillan. Messrs. McKillop, Campbell, Burrows, McIntyre, Graham, E. Winkler, Duncan, McNaught, Bird, Adams—14.

Nays—Messrs. Armstrong, O'Malley, Martin, Hartner, Frendzen, Pare, Kellet, McFadden, Armstrong—15.

After the advancement of several bills the House adjourned.

Thursday, March 7.

The time of the house was chiefly taken up to-day in the presentation of petitions and advancing bills.

Friday, March 8.

Hon. Mr. Sifton introduced several bills, one of them being a bill to make further provision respecting mortgages on real estate. The object of this the promoter explained to be to protect first mortgages, when a second mortgage is registered before the whole of the money has been advanced by the first mortgagee.

His Honor gave his assent to the Supply Bill, and the House adjourned until Monday night.

A PRONOUNCED BRUNETTE.

How a Gunner Was Captured by Miss Hannah Lott.

A special from Huntingdon, Pa., says: Theodore Wehn, second gunner on the cruiser Columbia, advertised in a matrimonial paper. Miss Hannah Lott, of New York, answered him. Miss Lott herself as well as a "pronounced brunette," and sent her photograph. Wehn proposed, and was accepted. He came to New York a few days after the proposal and went to his sweetheart's house. She let him in. For a moment Wehn was almost stunned. Miss Lott, the "pronounced brunette," is a mulatto with a coffee and milk complexion, so they were married at the Trinity Catholic church, and went to Chicago for their honeymoon.

A SAFE PLACE.

Government Bonds Secreted Beneath a Porous Plaster.

An eccentric old lady died a short time ago at Hingham, N. Y. She was known to have been the possessor of government bonds to a large amount when living, and that having no faith in banks and safes she had secreted them somewhere about her house or premises. A diligent search after her death failed to reveal the place of their concealment, and their hiding place was not discovered until the old lady was being prepared for burial, when a porous plaster was noticed on her body, and upon its removal the bonds were found secreted beneath it.

A Cycle Cab.

Lately there has appeared in London a new vehicle in the shape of a cycle cab, of which we give a sketch. The driver in front works pedals and steers, while a footman, mounted behind, assists the propulsion as shown. Horses are at a discount wherever this vehicle prevails.

Clara (after a tiff): "I presume you would like your ring back?" George: "Never mind; keep it. No other girl I know could use the ring unless she wore it on her thumb."

"Does your new girl break many new dishes?" "Worse than that. She cracks old jokes."

Cure For Insanity.

The London Daily Chronicle's Vienna correspondent, Prof. Wagner, of Vienna university, expounded a cure for insanity to the medical society lately. He injects Koch's tuberculin, causing a fever, after which the insanity subsides until eventually it vanishes.

Tidings From Zionville.

I suffered everything but death from indigestion during four years and tried all sorts of medicine to no effect, at last I was advised to try Burdock Blood Bitters, and before finishing the second bottle I was as well as I could be, and have had good health ever since.

A doctor's bill seldom reminds us of the comfort he brought when we needed him.

To search out impurities and drive them from the system is the work of Burdock Blood Bitters, thus B.B.B. cures dyspepsia, constipation, bad blood, biliousness and all diseases of the stomach, liver, bowels and blood.

Sallow complexion, blotches, pimples, leish, abscesses, old sores, scrofula, and skin diseases depend on impure blood. Burdock Blood Bitters purifies the blood, removes all effete matter, and cures all the above named diseases.

A Frequent Traveller.

Mr. G. Fred. Anderson, the popular representative of T. S. Simons & Co., Ltd., John N. B. in speaking of Norway Pine Syrup, says: "It is the best cough cure I ever used and I prefer it to any other. Have given it to friends of mine and it cures every time. It would be difficult now to induce me to use any other."

A Spring Motor That Embodies the Inventive Genius of Centuries.

The modern watch of any good make embodies the inventive genius of centuries. The pocket watch of to-day is one of the most accurate of all instruments of precision. Briefly defined, technically, it is a spring motor of exceedingly delicate construction of parts, controlled by an automatic regulating device that is a marvel of precision. It is designed to measure accurately and record the hours, minutes and seconds of the mean solar day. A watch keeping

Everybody knew him, but nobody had seen him. He had gone off because the master whom he had served faithfully through many years had said that he was going to die. Stone That is Flexible.
It may be hard to sell that a rock specimen in a geological collection is more curious than the bar of flexible sandstone, which may be bent with less pressure than that required to bend a piece of wet leather of the same thickness. It is upon the subject of this "flexible" sandstone that the Smithsonian Mineral Collector says are told that "when a thin slice of the stone is soaked under a lens by transmitted light the fragments are seen to be locked together in parts of a sectional form, but only loosely joined in the rest." Explaining how this stone was formed, to say that grains of sand were once cemented firmly together by another material, which has been partly dissolved, and that the remaining grains are locked in parts of larger shape before the

I was a worthy man's face beamed, and he took a affectionate leave of his host; but at the top of his head, with misgivings and suddenly demanded point-blank: "If there is no ballet, what is the play? I do not people like so much about your legs. Irving's play has not been choreographed."

THEIR CONSISTENCY.

In the conduct of an action a lawyer is always better satisfied if he can destroy a plaintiff's case by the plaintiff's own witness, and for the same reason if a political party can knock the feet from under opponents by their own admissions their case is doubly strong. In the present Federal contest the Trade question is the chief, in short the only issue by the great Liberal party headed or titled, as the case may be by the new convert, the gentleman with the powerful voice in Grit interests in Brandon constituency.

Their battle cry now appears to be "Free Trade as it is in Great Britain," with particularity towards the mother country. Four years ago they shouted "Unrestricted Reciprocity," in the contest before that "Commercial Union," and in the preceding struggle to that again "Continental Union," all of which in the words of Mr. Cartwright and Mr. Laurier himself meant the adoption of the American tariff on Canada, and the shutting out of English imports. When, however, after experimenting with these blisters they learned none of them would stick, set up the cry of "Free Trade as it is in England." How it works in England, where the average yearly taxation directly is $11 per capita instead of $7 in this country they are careful to conceal, attempting to delude the ratepayers with the idea that interest on debt, subsidies to provinces and running a government can be met as well without taxation as with it.

They know too, or at least ought to know that in England with bank interest at 4%, and less, wages low, raw materials lying side by side in the bowels of the earth, and water shipping at low rates to all points of consumption on the face of the globe, conditions are very different from what they are in Canada, and consequently the same trade policy cannot work the same way in both countries.

For the sake now of showing some of the chameleon lines of these gentlemen we will quote some of their utterances when they were in power themselves on this same trade question. In the budget debate in 1876 "Michigan" John Charlton, who has always been a powerful pusher for the party said: "I believe the agricultural interests would be benefited by protection. I would make a mark by bringing the manufacturer to the door of the farmer. The home market was of greatest value."

At that time his cry was built up manufacturers at home by protection, and create a home market for our farm produce. In a committee of the house the Hon. Mr. Jolly, who the other day was coerced into becoming a colleague of Mr. Laurier in this struggle said: "The admission of grain free of duty is against the interests of the farmers of Canada. I am decidedly in favor of protection of the home markets of this country." In the year 1876 Mr. James Blain, another great Liberal Free Trade party said on the floor of the House, "I feel that I should like the Finance Minister (Sir Richard Cartwright) to come down with a tariff policy that would enable us to protect our home industries and bring our producers and consumers together."

In that same debate "Haul down that flag, Jones," of Halifax said: "There must be a readjustment of the duties on sugar so as to encourage our refineries. At present they are closed and some thousands of people are thrown out of employment. The duties on raw materials are too high and on the refined article too low."

In the same debate Thos. Workman, after defeating the Hon. Thos. White in the city of Montreal on the protectionist cry declared: "We feel the injustice of admitting provisions into our country from the United States free while a duty of 20 per cent is placed on flour and grain sent to the United States. I am sure the government of the day will not ignore, and I do not think they can ignore, the cry for protection in that has gone forth through this country, commencing at Quebec and coming to Montreal, Toronto, London, Hamilton and all through Canada. Every candidate who will dare to announce himself as opposed to protection will be elected to stay at home."

In the same debate again James Young at one time treasurer in the Mowat government said: "If we are to have the tariff altered and if my learned friends can frame the measure that some relief can be given to the manufacturers from the unfair competition of the United States the Finance Minister would earn the

"approval of the House and of the country."

And now for the utterance of the would be Free Trade Premier, the Hon. M. Laurier himself, in the same debate. "It is asserted by many and assumed by others that Free Trade is a Liberal principle, and protection a Conservative principle. If I were in Great Britain I would be a Free Trader, but I am a Canadian born and a resident here, and I think we require protection. We have within ourselves the ability to create an industry. It is to be shown that we cannot maintain it either in the way of a premium or prohibitory tariff, then I should be ready to take that into consideration."

We could quote this way ad infinitum, but enough has been said to show that in office, and responsible for their utterances these gentlemen who would all be in a new Grit government again if formed were as highly protective as ever the present government was then where is their honesty or consistency in condemning in the present government the very things they advocated when in power themselves. It remains for Mr. Speers and other opposition candidates to give the public an answer that will satisfy.

OUT OF ITS OWN MOUTH.

In 1881 there were 254,935 employees, who were paid $59,429,002 in wages, and the value of the products was $309,676,063. The average rate of wages was $234 and the average value of the product per individual was $1,214.

In 1891 there were 367,865 employees who earned $99,702,441, and the value of the products was $475,455,005. The average rate of wages was $216 and the average value of the product was per head $1,295.

In 1891 the manufacturers paid $16 less per employee than in 1881, and realized on each employee's labor $81 per head more than in 1881.

It is not often at this age of politics that we find at the hour Grit papers helping along the course they desire to condemn; but the Brandon Sun is a noble exception. In its last issue, for instance, it got off the foregoing.

Now, the census returns show that in the decade between 1881 and 1891 the population of Canada increased about half a million or 10 per cent, and the Brandon Sun says in the same period the No. of mechanical employees increased from 254,935 to 367,865. 112,930 or nearly 45 per cent. In other words, the N. P. gave employment to that increase in our operatives, or with their families probably 300,000 people. Now because the employees received $15 a year less in 1891 than they did in 1881, it is attempted to show that the workmen under the N. P. were taxed, yet everyone with an ounce of knowledge knows that $1.00 in 1891 had more purchasing power than $1.25 in 1881, so that with lower wages in 1891 than in 1881 the mechanics of Canada were infinitely better off.

Then again, because the Manufacturers made more per man in 1891 out of their employees than they did in 1881, they were earning money at the expense of the workmen. But it is not necessary to tell even an average reader, that when the Manufacturer's proceeds of labor increased, has the importation of raw material increased, and this apparent excess of profits out of the work of the man has gone to pay for the raw materials imported and the duties thereon.

To make a point, the Sun will have to try some other dodge, it cannot make one out of twaddle like the foregoing. When the Grit contentions against protection can be thus flattered by their own papers, it is high time for them to call off their dogs and abandon the chase.

Arrangements Completed.

Winnipeg, March 13.—At the court house this morning an application was made by Judge Dabue on behalf of the plaintiff in the case of Charlebois vs. the Great Northwest Central railway company for an order to authorize and permit Mr. H. E. Forrest, the receiver of the road, appointed by the court to enter into an agreement for the running of trains. It was set out that the proposed agreement is made between the C.P.R. of the first part and the G. N. W. C. R. of the second part. The G. N. W. C. R. is to have permission to run a mixed train each way two days a week between Chatter and Brandon, and to have the use of the station and freight shed of the C.P.R. at Brandon. The C. P. R. is to lease to the G. N. W. C. R. an engine for the purpose of operating the train, and the latter company is to pay the C. P. R. the rental fixed upon for the use of the engine; also the charges arranged for the use of the waiting room at Brandon, the cleaning of the cars, etc., and handling of freight, shunting of cars and other services to be rendered by the C. P. R. This arrangement is rendered necessary by the fact that Chatter in which the round-house of the G. N. W. C. R. was burnt down, and the engines so burnt that they cannot be used without being repaired. The proposed arrangement will be a saving in the cost of operating the road, much more convenient for travelers, and the receiver is of opinion it will also materially aid in developing the traffic on the road. The court sanctioned the agreement.

THE SOUTHERN NERVINE TONIC

AND STOMACH AND LIVER CURE

The Wonderful HEALTH BUILDER & NERVE FOOD.
Chronic Diseases are caused by Damaged Nerve Centres at base of the Brain.

LATE discoveries have absolutely proven that the Stomach, Liver, Lungs, and indeed all internal organs, are controlled by the nerve centres at the base of the brain. The manufacturer of SOUTH AMERICAN NERVINE has studied this subject closely for more than twenty-five years, and has lately demonstrated that two-thirds of our Chronic Diseases, are due to the imperfect action of nerve centres, either within or at the base of the brain and not from a derangement of the organs themselves; hence that the ordinary methods of treatment are wrong.

As all know, a serious injury to the spinal cord, will at once cause Paralysis of the lower below the injured part, it therefore will be equally well understood, how the derangements of the nerve centres, will cause the derangement of the different organs of the body which they supply with Nerve Fluid or Nerve Force.

The wonderful success of SOUTH AMERICAN NERVINE is due alone to the fact that it is based on the foregoing principle. The use of a single bottle of this remedy will convince the most incredulous. It is indeed, a veritable Nerve Food and Will Relieve in One Day the varied forms of Nervous Disease and Stomach Troubles.

Nervous Diseases

This class of diseases, is rapidly increasing each year, on account of the great wear our mode of living and labor imposes upon the nervous system. Nine-tenths of all the ailments to which the human family is heir are dependent upon nervous exhaustion, impaired digestion, and a deteriorated and impoverished condition of the blood. The SOUTH AMERICAN NERVINE is a great nerve food and nerve builder and this accounts for its marvellous power to cure the varied forms of nervous disease, such as Neuralgia, Nervousness, Nervous Prostration, St. Vitus's Dance, Nervous Choking, Nervous Paroxysms, Twitching of the Muscles, Hot Flashes, Mental Despondency, Forgetfulness, Sleeplessness, Restlessness, Nervousness of Females, Palpitation of the Heart, Sexual Weakness, etc., etc.

Used Six Years

FROM NERVOUS PROSTRATION.

While I could not retain anything on my stomach. Many consultations were held or physicians over my case, but they all agreed that I would never leave my bed. During the early part of my illness, I had an eminent physician from Dayton, Ohio, and two from Columbus, Ohio, to come and examine me. They all said I could not live. I got to having spells like spasms, and would be cold and stiff for a time after each. At last I lost the use of my body—I could not rise from my bed or walk a step, and had to be lifted like a child; all the time suffering intense pain, and taking almost every known medicine. Part of the time I could read a little, and one day saw an advertisement of your medicine and concluded to try one bottle. By the time I had taken one and one-half bottles I could rise up and take a step or two by being helped, and after I had taken five bottles in all I felt well. The sleep went away gradually, and I could eat and sleep good, and my friends could scarcely believe it was I. I am sure this medicine is the best in the world. It was a god-send to me, and I believe it saved my life. I give my name and address, so that if anyone doubts my statement they can write me, or our postmaster or any citizen, as all are acquainted with my case. I am now forty-one years of age, and expect to live as long as the Lord has use for me and do all the good I can in helping the suffering.

Will a remedy which can effect such a marvellous cure as the above, cure you?

A MINISTER OF THE GOSPEL SPEAKS.
PETERBORO, Ontario, June 27, 1893.
To the Proprietor of South American Nerve Food.
DEAR SIR,—I have much pleasure in recommending the great SOUTH AMERICAN NERVINE to all who are afflicted as I have been with nervous prostration and indigestion. I found very great relief from the very first bottle, which was strongly recommended to me by my druggist. I also induced my wife to use it, who, I must say, is completely run down and was suffering very much from nervous debility. She found great relief from SOUTH AMERICAN NERVINE, and also cheerfully recommends it to her fellow sufferers.

Sick Headache.

Is dependent on deranged nerve centres and indigestion. Hence its cure must come through building up the Nervous System and curing the Stomach. SOUTH AMERICAN NERVINE will absolutely cure this dreaded malady and prevent its return.

A SURE CURE FOR ST. VITUS'S DANCE.

My daughter, twelve years old, had been afflicted for seven months with Chorea or St. Vitus's Dance. She was reduced to a skeleton, could not walk, could not talk, could not swallow anything but milk; I had to handle her like an infant. Doctors and neighbors gave her up. I commenced giving her the SOUTH AMERICAN NERVINE Tonic, and the effect was very surprising. In three days she was rid of the nervousness, and really improved. Two bottles cured her completely. I think the SOUTH AMERICAN NERVINE the grandest remedy ever discovered, and would recommend it to everyone.

A WONDERFUL CURE FOR INDIGESTION and DYSPEPSIA.

Loss of Appetite, Weight and Tenderness in the Stomach, Sour Stomach, Pain in the Stomach, Wind upon the Stomach, Nausea and Sick Stomach, Sick-Headache, Heartburn, Water-Breath, Heartburn, Vertigo and Dizziness, Sleeplessness, Frightful Dreams, etc.

The Stomach suffers more than any of the other organs from disease, because into it are taken so many indigestible and irritating substances as articles of food. In its great effort to digest these, it soon becomes weakened and diseased. Under such circumstances, it is not wonderful, that so many complain of Indigestion and weak stomachs. When the Stomach fails to digest and assimilate the food, the whole body falls into a state of weakness and decay, for Nature has decreed that the body must constantly receive nutriment through the Stomach, to repair the waste of tissue constantly going on in the system.

The South American Nerve

Is probably the greatest remedy ever discovered for the cure of all Chronic Stomach troubles, because it acts through the nerve centres. It gives marked relief in one day, and very soon effects a permanent cure. The first bottle will convince anyone that a cure is certain.

WHAT EX-MEMBER OF PARLIAMENT, REUBEN E. TRUAX, SAYS.

I have been for about ten years very much troubled with indigestion and dyspepsia, have tried a great many different kinds of patent medicines, and have been treated by a number of physicians and found no benefit from them. I was recommended to try SOUTH AMERICAN NERVINE. I obtained a bottle, and I must say I have found very great relief, and have since taken two more bottles, and now feel that I am entirely free from indigestion, and would strongly recommend all my fellow sufferers from the disease, to give SOUTH AMERICAN NERVINE an immediate trial.

Will cure you.

In the removal of Mr. F. P. Jarvis, of the Imperial bank staff, to Prince Albert, the boys are losing a general favorite. On Friday afternoon a number of his friends gathered in the Imperial bank building and presented Mr. Jarvis with a well-filled purse. It is very often disastrous for a man to oppose a woman's views on the woman suffrage question, but the unfortunate moment, we should imagine, would be on a beautiful moonlit night, and skimming along over the gleaming snow, could readily rob in a cutter. We fancy ——— will have similar thoughts since his trip over the last bridge about ten days ago. The facts are that a cutter with two enraptured cronies in was seen merely jouncing along 1st street, but alas—the moon was darkened—two minutes later the driver could be seen desperately urging his equine on in hopes of overtaking his companion, but who had fled. Even the animal was oppressed, and with drooping ears and head, dragged himself and driver wearily home, laden with a sense of woman's "inhumanity to man."

To Remain in Jail.

The chief justice delivered judgment on Saturday morning last in a case of Edmunds v. O'Brien, where defendant had been arrested on a capias and had applied for his release. The parties reside in Brandon where plaintiff carried on a livery stable. In September last he entered into an agreement to sell the business with the horses, stable, etc., to defendant for $10.00. Defendant took possession and carried on the business but did not pay any of the purchase money, and as there were rumors abroad that he intended to leave the country, plaintiff issued the capias and had him arrested. The statements made by defendant were not disputed, but it was contended they were made when not quite sober and he really had no intention to leave the country; in support of this contention it was shown that he had entered into an agreement to buy a house in Brandon in which to live. When his Lordship heard the application for release he reserved judgment which he has now given, refusing the application for release and defendant must therefore remain in goal. Mr. O. H. Clark for plaintiff, Mr. Howell, Q.C., for defendant.

For Over Fifty Years.

Mr. J. Winkler, 2 Northrup Street, has been a resident of Brandon for many years, and while visiting, he was struck by a horse and fell, fracturing his leg and arm, and getting a bullet in his chest. He was taken to the hospital, but the doctors were unable to do much for him. He was kept in the hospital for several weeks, but he was unable to get any better. He was then taken home, and he died a few days later. His family was very poor, and they were unable to pay for his funeral. They were very distressed, and they were looking for a way to get rid of their grief. They were then told of a certain medicine, and they bought it, and they gave it to their son. He took it, and he got better, and he was able to go back to work. He was very grateful to the medicine, and he was very grateful to the people who gave it to him. He was very happy, and he was very content. He was very healthy, and he was very strong. He was very good, and he was very kind. He was very brave, and he was very honest.
